Chicago PCG Delivers Consular Services to Filipinos in Michigan

A six-member team from the Philippine Consulate General in Chicago conducted the Consulate's 7th outreach for this year in Southfield, Michigan, on 10 September 2016.

Preceding the outreach was a brief program which included remarks by Consul Ericka Anna Abad and Ms. Rebecca Tungol, President of the Consulate General's community partner in the outreach, the Philippine American Cultural Center of Michigan (PACCM). Representatives of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the National Labor Relations Board also gave presentations and informed the Filipino and Filipino-American communities in Michigan about the laws that protect workers' rights in the US.

The Chicago PCG team, with the assistance of PACCM volunteers, delivered consular services to more than 250 Filipinos in Southfield and other neighboring areas in Michigan. These consular services included e-passport, notariats, civil registry and dual citizenship. END
